

Please do everything you can to insure that third-parties (such as Covad) are able to strongly compete with the "bells" (such as Qwest). The ability of those third-parties to use facilities owned by the "bells" to provide the "last mile" connection to homes and businesses is critical to providing good broadband service in the US.